A Boise City paper has this rather blood curdling item Of the crowd of reckless spirits who congregated at Boise City in 1864, there are none left in Idaho and but few anywhere else. We can enumerate ten or twelve of them who have been killed in bar room and street fights others have been hung and some who have not ought to be but we are not cognizant of a single instance where one has gone down barefooted They are planted about in different spots in the mountains and valleys of the coast—their graves unmarked in the majority of cases The wicked shall not live out half their days

The Helena Gazette says that Dave Lyons while crazy drunk at Cedar Creek, Deer Lodge Montana, on the night of the 3d inst, shot and killed Richard Moore night watchman, and seriously wounded another man named John Sullivan who was coming up behind the former Lyons was arrested, and when the fumes of the whisky disappeared and he discovered what he had done he got hold of a revolver and shot himself in the breast from the effects of which he afterwards died Lyons formerly lived in Boise City and was known as a harmless but dissipated young man

The Idaho Statesman of the 13th relates the following singular occurrence On Monday morning about 11 o'clock Mr D Levy of the bakery on Main street left a gentleman in charge of his place of business while he started out to saddle up a mule on which to go a mile or so up the road Not coming back at the time agreed upon, the gentleman attending the place grew uneasy and was on the point of starting out in search of him when a door leading into the back room suddenly opened and revealed Mr Levy standing in the middle of the floor covered with blood and unconscious of what he was doing An examination disclosed a very severe wound on the top of the head, and a bruise above and below the left eye He soon became rational enough to converse, but could give no information as to how he received the injuries. A broken stool was found near him, and he asked who did it, His mule was found in the stable with bridle and saddle on, but nothing was discovered that would lead to any reasonable conjectures with regard to the matter In examining the wound on the head a sliver of wood was found in the hair surrounding it and a stool leg which was found makes it appear as though he had been struck suddenly from behind No light has been thrown upon the mystery thus far

TH[illegible]SDAY MORNING OCTOBER [illegible] 1870

The Restoration of the Civil Code

An act [illegible] just [illegible] the Assembly and been approved October 22 1870 to amend the code [illegible] procedure In the main, the act is a repeal of the radical amendments made to the Code by the act of October 1866 and a restoration of the sections affected by such amendments to the original text of 1862 We understand that the act is the work of the judiciary committee of both Houses aided by the suggestions and counsel of the principal lawyers of the State not in the Assembly

The general effect of the amendment is as follows

I Section [illegible] concerning the publication of a summons is amended so as to explicitly authorize an order for publication to be made in a justice s court This was already authorized by the general rule prescribed for proceedings in such courts in section 7 of the justices code Its explicit assertion here can do no harm except to spoil the congruity of the section by inserting in it a special provision, which, if deemed necessary at all should have been placed in the justices code There is also added to sub-division 3 of the same section what the summons when published shall contain This also is only an explicit assertion of what was impliedly provided in the section as it stood but in practice we think it will be an improvement upon the original in one particular at least because it provides that the publication shall state the time within which the defendant is required to answer the complaint instead of leaving him to find out that fact by ascertaining when is the first day of the term following the expiration of the term prescribed in the order for publication " A defendant out of the State might not readily ascertain when the first day of such term occurred

II Section 93 is amended so as to lop off the clause added to it by the act of 1866, which provided that a cause shall proceed as an action at law or a suit in equity as from the facts stated by the plaintiff or defendant may appear proper and right. This provision was a plausible one in the abstract, but in practice, not well adapted to the average human nature on the bench and at the bar The original section is also amended in the definition of a material allegation by adding the words "as to such claim or defense" thus explicitly making the materiality depend upon whether the court or plea upon which the allegation is contained would be insufficient without it, rather than the whole complaint or answer. This was doubtless the intention of the original section, but as the gentlemen of the bar of this generation are not supposed to know much about pleading beyond what is set down in the Code, it is well to clear up the slightest ambiguity in such an important matter.

III Section 194 of the Code relates to the conduct of the trial after the formation of the jury and is amended so as to explicitly declare that when the charge of the Court is given to the jury in writing it shall be given "as written without any oral explanation Of course this does not change the effect of the section, as a written charge with oral explanations is a contradiction of terms If the law also required that the attorneys should address the jury in writing "without any oral explanations," the just equilibrium between the Bench and the Bar in the administration of justice would be better preserved than it is. The employment of official short-hand reporters by the State is probably the ultimate solution of this vexed and unpleasant question.

IV Section 377 is amended by inserting a clause authorizing a party having an equitable defense to an action at law upon filing his answer therein, to file a complaint in equity for such relief, and thereby stay the action at law and determine the controversy upon the equity between the parties

V Section 393 is restored to its original form so as to require testimony in suits in equity to be taken by deposition, except in special cases. The amendment of 1868 allowing testimony to be given orally in suits is repealed

VI Section 526 is amended so as to give six months in which to take an appeal to the Supreme Court instead of sixty days and to repeal the addition made by the act of 1866 whereby the party appealing might have his appeal heard upon a statement of the case instead of a bill of exceptions This is an important amendment. Sections 527 and 531 are amended so as to conform to the changes made in 393 Section 533 is amended so as to repeal the change made by the act of 1866 Section 804 is restored to its original form by striking out the words of the act of 1866, making it applicable to suits in equity The same remark is applicable to section 805.

VII Section 800 is amended so as to require actions for injuries to the person or rights of another not arising on contract and not specially enumerated to be brought within two years instead of six This seems to be a wholesome amendment but probably only affects an action for criminal conversation as all other actions for personal torts were already barred in two years

VIII Section 1 036 is amended so as to excuse an executor from giving bond or taking an oath when the testator expressly exonerates him from so doing in his will If the testator owed no debts, this amendment would be well enough but as it is it is bad enough Now there is nothing to prevent an insolvent person from giving his property to his friend or kinsmen by making him executor of his will without bond and thus leaving his creditors to whistle for their debts

There is quite a stir about the enforcement of the Congressional election law in the city of New York The Tribune gives some advice gratis to repeaters and closes thus 'And now we once more urge every legal voter in this city when the time comes, to see that his name is on the register and to vote once and we assure every alien repeater or holder of one of Tammany s fraudulent naturalization papers that he will be known and watched and that if he attempts to register or vote he will be arrested and placed where neither Judge Barnard nor Judge McCunn can help him or save him from the penalty of the law '

The House the other day didn t want to allow Mr Dorris (Dem of Lane county an opportunity to talk about the extraordinary conduct of the Governor in "approving the bill to take $200 000 of the school money in violation of the Constitution of the State therefore Mr Dorris was silenced But Mr Dorris says that this immense swindle will defeat the Democratic party in the next election and no doubt his judgment is correct

The West Side Subsidy

Yesterday the Senate [illegible] the House bill [illegible] the city [illegible] will [illegible] here We have heretofore repeatedly expressed the opinion that the advantage to accrue to the city from having the terminus of this road within its limits will far exceed the amount of the subsidy which it is proposed to confer [illegible] the grant of $[illegible]00 000 will be as nothing in comparison with the benefits which the road will bring. [illegible] the distinction of this new railway is completed [illegible] the rich district on the west side of the valley brought into direct communication with Portland property here will be augmented in value by more than double the amount of the subsidy As a business proposition, therefore, the subsidy will pay as a means of hurrying forward the west side railroad and securing to Portland advantages which the city could not have if the road should run in at East Portland the subsidy will prove a highly profitable investment The persons here who favor the measure in this view represent a large majority of the property of the city The subsidy is perfectly secured as it is to be paid as the railroad is actually constructed and there is no danger that the city will repeat with this its former experience of paying out money and getting no road The energy that has pushed on the east side road is a guarantee of the success of the west side The bill appears to be framed so as to avoid constitutional objections and all doubts many of our best lawyers think so and we hope the Governor will approve it promptly

Sketches from the Capital

We take the following from a recent letter from the State Capital

> The House at this present writing is considering a bill to increase the salaries of the Supreme Judges—a happy subject for demagogues and fools

And again

> There is an ungovernable appetite for the loaves and fishes and the hungry crowd are not confined to the outside, there being many in the body of the two Houses

Still further

> The Cascade road bill and many other road bills, all, or nearly all, of which are stealing bills are being pressed by the outside with untiring energy worthy of a more honest purpose

Finally?

> The Legislature expects to adjourn next Saturday night, but that must depend upon the large of some of the fools who are sent here to make laws for people of common sense

From a Republican paper, of course? Not by any means The above extracts, every one are from the correspondence of that unflinching and reliable Democratic journal the Eugene Guard We suppose we must take them as a confession that the present Legislature is composed of "fools and demagogues" and a "hungry set " who have an ungovernable appetite for loaves and fishes though that does seem rather like a violent characterization for the law making power of Oregon But then we must remember that the law making power just now is Democratic

The Herald yesterday continued to fight the railroad amendment to the city charter as furiously as if it were still a pending issue before the Legislature The Herald gets to going with such momentum that it can t stop its lubberly machine when the race is run and it is beaten.

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT]

SALEM Tuesday, Oct 25th

PASSAGE OF THE RAILROAD CHARTER AMENDMENT

The bill to amend the Portland charter—or better known as the railroad bill—was reported back at 2 P M from the special committee who had been directed to engross it, and at once the combatants for and against it, girded their loins and prepared for battle I do not think that a particular account of the blows dealt, the strategic manœuvers executed, the number of rounds fought and all that, will be of great consequence to the annals of the railroad, it may be well however to record who finally went to grass, with "busted bugle," "closed peepers," etc The bill was favored by Messrs. Hayden of Polk Olney of Clatsop and Dorris of Lane Messrs Whiteaker and Amis of Lane, Grant of Polk and Fulton of Wasco were the champions of the "capital sits so called," for whom the Herald folks were sponge holders The latter were knocked out of time by the following vote For the bill, Messrs Apperson Burnett, Caldwell Clark Carson Calloway Carlisle Dorris, Dunbar, Davenport Earhart Harrison, Holeman Hare Lockhart, McCoy Mills, Olney, Ostrander O Regan Paquet Quimby, Starkweather, Townsend Wells Whalley Waldron and Mr Speaker (Hayden)—28 against the bill, Messrs Alexander Amis, Comegys Drain, Da Shiel, Jenkins, Fulton, Grant Hutchinson Helm, McClain, Munkers Porter Shuck Whiteaker—15 Before the announcement of the vote Mr Helm changed his vote to yea, and gave notice of his intention to reconsider This however, was only a parting mouth making at the victors and was not a very frightful performance Mr Hare knocked the wind out of the Young Lion of Linn, by immediately moving a reconsideration Mr Dorris moved to indefinitely postpone the motion to reconsider, and this motion prevailed by the same vote as before Mr Shuck of Yamhill, got up and with all the gravity of an ancient owl, gave notice of his intention to move a reconsideration of the motion for indefinite postponement—a parliamentary performance about as easy of execution as the physical lifting of one s self over a fence by the seat of one s breeches Of course everybody laughed and the Democratic war "hoss" of Yamhill subsided During the discussion and voting on the bill the gallery and lobby were crowded by interested spectators, both friends and foes of the measure and at the close there was some excitement The House was very soon without a working quorum and an adjournment took place till 7 o clock this evening

IN THE SENATE

Most of the afternoon was occupied by the reading of bills the third time Very little discussion was indulged in but calls of the Senate as usual for the last week were frequent so that not a great amount of business was disposed of The tendency to this has really been remarkable for a few days No sooner is one set of absentees brought in under the call of the Senate than another bat h turns up missing It is rare that more than one or two votes can be taken without sending formally or informally for absent members Fortunately, however the Sergeant at Arms knows invariably where to find them Otherwise the delays would be vexatious and frequently fatal

MESSAGE FROM BILL WATKINDS ESQ

Yesterday Senator Moores incidentally remarked that the late Penitentiary Superintendent had purchased wood for about $2 75 per cord while he had been informed that the present Superintendent had made contracts for wood at $4 00 per cord At this the ferruginous William took umbrage dried up and immediately sent in a message to the Senate denying that he had contracted for wood at $4 00 a cord or any other "figger" in the universal field of mathematics and that although he had received several propositions for wood at that and various other figures he was revolving in his giant intellect the propriety of procuring what wood the institution wanted by the labor of convicts The message was received with the solemnity demanded by the circumstances and William will go down to the dim and distant future bound in boards along with the other distinguished men who figure in the Senate Journal Happy William!

THE ENTIRE CAMP TO BE INVESTIGATED

Mr Mosher to day introduced a joint resolution to raise a committee to investigate the affairs of the Penitentiary Superintendent the Secretary of State the Treasurer of State and the [illegible] was [illegible] the same [illegible] committee examine [illegible] resolution of which he was [illegible] that inasmuch as those same bal[illegible] had been [illegible] sed as a fraud upon the State by [illegible] the other day he desired that the whole matter should be investigated and reported upon [illegible] rather not [illegible] gentleman from Multnomah [illegible] and with his deadly [illegible] compared with the attitude of [illegible] the other day, he [illegible] the gentleman from Marion [illegible] construe what he had said He had [illegible] charged fraud but had said that [illegible] had bought [illegible] worth and that an attempt had been made prior to the sale [illegible] Oregon unsuspecting Democrats [illegible] price up on the building [illegible] Commissioners could justify themselves for the sacrifice of the property The resolution was further amended so as to provide for a commission of two [illegible] to be [illegible] with power to select a third and employ a competent clerk to sit not more than [illegible] at $5 per day and to report to the next Legislature The resolution was adopted without [illegible]

JOINT CONVENTION

The Joint Convention to elect Pilot Commissioners State Librarian and such other officers as may be provided for by law will be held to morrow At what hour I do not know as the resolution providing for it has not yet been introduced

THE [illegible] FRAUD INVESTIGATION

Mr Dorris inquired this afternoon what had been done by the special committee to whom was referred the investigating of the charges of corruption preferred by the Herald newspaper Mr Baldwin Chairman of the committee replied that a report would be submitted to morrow

ABSENTEES

Mr Thompson has been absent from the Senate for two or three days and Mr Rader of Jackson from the House for several days on account of sickness The latter is reported to have either the varioloid or chicken pox A number of other members have lately had leave of absence on account of temporary illness

THE ANTI CHINAMEN IN THE HOUSE

The bill to tax unnaturalized foreigners and to regulate their employment in this State was up in the House this evening and several of the Anti Chinamen spread themselves and made up their records upon which to run hereafter for Congress for Governor and various other responsible and honorable offices The Republican members contented themselves mostly with poking fun at the whole thing and offering a few amendments Finding that the Democratic majority were determined upon the passage of the bill Mr Whalley, of Multnomah offered an amendment providing that the unfriendly provisions should not be construed to affect any foreigners except Chinamen or Mongolians Mr Hare, of Washington, argued that as the bill now stands its provisions could not be construed to relate to any but white foreigners He said it was the desire of the Republican members to exempt all white foreigners from the penalties of the bill and the amendment had been offered for that purpose If the Democratic party chose to defeat the amendment and thus level the penalties of the bill indiscriminately at white foreigners immigrating to our State the Democratic party must be responsible for it The amendment was however voted down by a strict party vote except Dorris of Lane and Comegys of Polk, voted with the Republicans for it After this there were a number of dilatory motions mostly from Mr Dorris who announced his object to be to kill the bill The main question was finally reached about 9 P M, when the house got so thin that the friends of the bill got afraid to go to a vote, and so they postponed the further consideration till 10 A M to morrow, by a bare majority

SALEM, Wednesday, Oct. 26, 1 P M 1870

DEMOCRATIC UNFRIENDLINESS TO FOREIGNERS DEFEATED

The bill to tax and lay excessive burdens upon unnaturalized foreigners introduced and advocated by the Democracy in this Legislature, came to its death this morning in the House When the question on the passage of the bill was announced Mr Dorris one of the only two Democrats who opposed the bill stated his reason for voting in the negative He said the bill was not only unconstitutional but it was so framed as to discriminate against white foreigners and in favor of Chinamen This was really the fact The Republican members had at all stages of the bill endeavored to get it amended so as to except white foreigners from its provisions but the Democracy persistently opposed and defeated such amendments The record is made, notwithstanding the defeat of the bill that the Democracy for the purpose of reaching the Chinaman were willing to lay also upon all white foreigners immigrating to our State such taxes and burdens as must drive them out while the Republicans without exception voted throughout to so frame the bill as to make its provisions apply only to Chinamen Let foreigners remember these facts They are matters of record and cannot be gainsayed or explained away

THE PORTLAND RAILROAD BILL

This bill came into the Senate this morning with the House amendments, the substance of which I sent you yesterday There was a repetition of the arguments urged against it when it was originally before the Senate—by Messrs Brown of Baker Baldwin, Cochran, Stout Mosher and Newby But the amendments were each concurred in by a vote of 12 to 9 and the bill now goes to the Governor In my letter to night I will give you a synopsis of the proceedings had

A New El Dorado.—Every season brings with it a new gold or silver mining excitement which produces a contagious fever, annually carrying off its thousands, and of those thousands fully 90 per cent are ruined, whereas, if they would confine themselves to steady pursuits in the settled regions, they might be prosperous, and in a brief time well to-do. The last year's egg which hatched a bluster the past season was Loon Creek. We are now informed by men who were the most reliable advocates of Loon Creek last February and March, that in October the bottom has fallen out, not a dollar is to be made in the camp, and houses are selling at twenty five cents a piece in the most prosperous trading city of Loon Creek. This is but a repetition of the scenes produced by gold mining excitements, and the purpose of writing this item is to warn people against betting on a new game of like character which the residents of Montana are preparing to catch the public with in the spring of 1871. This new ElDorado is pronounced to be "equal to California in the days of '49." The diggings, it is said, will pay from $10 to $50 per day on the hand. "But," says our informant, a resident Bozeman, "they will not be developed until next Spring, and Bozeman will be one of the chief outfitting points." The last clause of the above question explains the whole secret wealth of this late discovery. The "chief outfitting points" will make all the money that will be made out of the new El Dorado. "The discoverers," we are further told, "refuse to give much information regarding the camp at present, but it is believed several thousand men can find employment in the spring." The account further states that "the discoverers found themselves surrounded by four feet of snow, September, 22d, and being without grain or food for their horses, set at work with their shovels and made a road through the snow drifts to the plains below where their animals could subsist." We hope that no persons in Oregon can be persuaded to try the luck in this "new El Dorado," "certain found," etc., in eastern Montana; where, in "the opinion" of a few, diggings paying from $10 to $50 per day can be found in "pay dirt" than that can be found on the Tualatin Plains. This is the new El Dorado, here in Oregon's fair valleys, where a new empire is opening in reality. Stick to it.

Compulsory Education.—Some of the New York papers are advocating the principle of enforcing the attendance of children, not otherwise provided for, upon the public schools, as the only effective mode of reducing the amount of vice and [illegible] in the city. One of these journals suggests the establishment of "half time" schools, by which [illegible] may attend school half a day, and work at some useful trade the other half. The suggestion is [illegible] for all cities, where there appears to be an unusual number of children permitted to run at large upon the public streets, without parental or other control, growing up in idleness and [illegible], and often in a state of semi-barbarism, as they do in Portland. No practice that can be [illegible] tends so surely to the demoralization of society. Ignorance is the prolific mother of crime, and the end will be that unless society lays its restraining hand on these young children, thus left to their own associations and resources, and brings them voluntarily or involuntarily, under the refining and humanizing influences of civilization [illegible], we shall in time have to erect more jails and provide more courts to try the largely increased volunteers in the army of criminals that infest the city.

Oregon City Items.—In consequence of the [illegible] of Judge Upton, the Circuit Court for Clackamas county did not convene yesterday.

The Bird Theatrical Troupe are giving a series of entertainments in the city, at the old [illegible], in ex-Sheriff Myers' building. It makes a very good hall, and the removal of the [illegible] to other quarters, thus gives the town what it has long felt the need of.

A tribe of "too-dle" bucks are running a lively game at two bits ante, on the streets in open daylight.

Steam was raised on the new Senator yesterday, and she works admirably. She will come to P[illegible] to-day.

Explosive Agents.—The caution that should be [illegible] in storing away explosive agents in [illegible] is indicated by an accident that occurred recently in Greenock, Scotland. Twelve young men took refuge from a shower in an unused smith's shop. One of the young men, in looking about the premises discovered a tin box about a foot square, and another observed a small quantity of oil on a forge. These discoveries did not seem to be very important till a third member of the party picked up a hammer, with which he struck a severe blow at the box. In an instant a terrible explosion took place, and the whole [illegible] and sleeves of the unfortunate young men were blown into atoms.

Grapes in Cotton.—There arrived by the steamer Ajax, now in port from San Francisco, a lot of choice fruit as a present to a distinguished gentleman in Salem from a friend, which would have been a tempting display, but they spoiled on the trip, and were not worth taking over to the depot when they arrived. Never pack grapes in cotton for a voyage to keep them from bruising, unless you want to make [illegible] of the lot.

Oregon Cider.—It is generally known that Oregon produces the best cider in the world, but it is not generally known that "Oregon cider" comes to the State in steamships from California. We believe it, although a recent shipment would lead us to think so. If, as suggested by [illegible], we permit an inferior quality to get into the market through such a round-a-bout way as this, we may be the losers by the operation.

Surveyors' Camp.—Tents were pitched on the block above Columbia street, Tuesday evening, by another surveying party under charge of [illegible] of the Oregon and California Railroad Company engineers. This party have been to the [illegible] mile stake on the East Side, and now [illegible] the proposed route up the valley from [illegible] to the junction near the Rogue River crossing.

Iron Front.—The Wallamet Iron Works have completed the front castings for the U. S. N. Co's building, and the same will be raised to their positions to-morrow. The work is well finished, and the front is quite a handsome affair. An ornamented iron balcony, supported by massive brackets, surmounts the columns, on a level with the floor of the second story.

Just the Thing.—Judge Lake, of San Francisco, has given notice that convicted garroters will be sentenced to the penitentiary for life. The Judge seems determined to break up one of the most flourishing industries on the Pacific coast.

Real Estate.—The bidding at auction yesterday on lots 5 and 6, block 12, sold by Mr. A. B. Richardson, was spirited for a time. The property was finally sold to Mr. T. M. Richardson, for the sum of $8,550.

Tallow.—About a dozen old whisky barrels, filled with dirty looking tallow, were shipped on board the steamer for San Francisco yesterday. The appearance of the packages will not recommend the quality of the contents.

Unclaimed Baggage.—A lot of unclaimed baggage and merchandise will be sold on Saturday next, at Wells, Fargo & Co's express office, by Mr. A. B. Richardson, auctioneer.

In Press.—The prospectus of McCormick's Oregon Almanac informs us that the 17th publication is now in press and will be issued early in November.

Personal.—Mr. L. B. Beechley, of San Francisco, a prominent manufacturer of linseed oil, came to Portland by the evening train yesterday.

Rail.—The Fannie T[illegible] brought up 120 tons of [illegible] from Monticello for the Oregon and California Railroad Company yesterday.

Stage Line.—We hear that the Olympia Stage Line has been purchased by Mr. J. M. Lockwood. The price paid is said to be $20,000.

Gone Below.—The Okanogan took the Ajax [illegible] for Astoria yesterday.

There are letters in this office for "L. D." and "Manufacturer."

Multnomah Engine Company No. 2.—Regular meeting this (Thursday) evening at 7½ o'clock.
W. A. HOLBROOK, Secretary.
Portland, October 27 1870.

THE RAILROAD CHARTER AMENDMENT BILL.

Following is the full text of the bill as passed by the two Houses:

A Bill to amend an Act entitled an Act to incorporate the city of Portland, approved October 14, 1864.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:

Section 1. That section 1[illegible] of an Act to incorporate the city of Portland, approved October 14, 1864, be repealed and the following enacted in its place:

Sec. 1[illegible]. The indebtedness of the city of Portland must never exceed in the aggregate the sum of fifty thousand dollars, and any debt or liability incurred in violation of this section, whether by borrowing money, loaning the credit of the city, or otherwise, is null and void and of no effect; but the city of Portland may incur an additional indebtedness, not exceeding three hundred thousand dollars, in the manner and for the purposes following, that is to say: If any person or persons shall cause or procure the Astoria and McMinnville railroad to be constructed according to the terms of the Act of Congress, approved May 4, 1870, entitled "An Act granting land to aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from Portland to Astoria and McMinnville, in the State of Oregon," commencing the track of said railroad from and within the present limits of the city of Portland, on the west side of the Wallamet river and within the limits of said city, as aforesaid, then and upon those conditions said city is hereby authorized by and through its Mayor and Common Council to provide by ordinance for making and issuing three hundred coupon bonds of said city for the sum of $1,000 each, payable to bearer at and after twenty years from the date thereof, with interest at the rate of seven per centum, payable semi-annually, principal and interest payable in gold coin; and that so often as four miles of said road or track, commencing at the terminal depot aforesaid and going westerly toward Forest Grove and thence southerly toward McMinnville, is completed and constructed as a first class road or track, and ready for the rolling stock, seventy-five of said bonds shall become the property of said person or persons, and shall be delivered to them by the proper officers of the city, as by said ordinance shall be provided.

Sec. 137. For the purpose mentioned in section 136 there may be, in any fiscal year, levied and collected a special tax, not exceeding one half of one per centum on all property subject to assessment and taxation, as provided in section 38, and the city of Portland, in case of the issuance and delivery of the bonds provided for in section 136, or any portion of them, is authorized and required, in addition to all other general or special taxes which it is or may be authorized or permitted to levy, to levy and collect annually upon and off all property subject to assessment and taxation, as provided by section 33, a special tax sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds so issued and delivered, as the same becomes due and payable, and to provide or reserve the necessary fund, by special taxation or other lawful means, to pay the principal sum of said bonds, as the same shall become due and payable.

Sec. 3. Inasmuch as the interests of the city of Portland demand immediate action in relation to the subject matter of this Act in order to avail themselves of the benefits, therefore this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its approval by the Governor.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

REGULAR MEETING, OCT. 26TH.

The Common Council met last evening pursuant to adjournment, Mayor Goldsmith in the chair.

Present—Councilmen Besser, Bills, Breck, Hill, Lewis and Moffett.

Absent—Councilmen Cree, Congle and Hallock.

Minutes of special meeting read and approved.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, COMMUNICATIONS, ETC.

Petition of Arthur Fahie for use of certain streets through which to move buildings was granted.

THE OREGON LEGISLATURE

Sixth Biennial Session

SENATE—Morning Session

SALEM, Tuesday, Oct. 25.

The Senate met at the usual hour.

HOUSE BILLS PASSED—[illegible] REFERRED.

H. B. 73, an act for the relief of Union county was read three times under suspension of the rules and passed—yeas 17, nays none.

H. B. 74, an act for the relief of Coos county was read three times and passed.

H. B. [illegible], an act to incorporate the city of East Portland was [illegible] and passed without [illegible].

H. B. [illegible], an act to pay the unpaid expenses of the last session of the Legislature, was passed.

H. B. [illegible], an act to incorporate the city of Albany, was passed.

THE SCHOOL BILL.

H. B. 56, an act to provide a uniform system of education for the State, was read the third time.

Mr. Fay moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Education, with instructions to amend by inserting an amendment to prohibit religious exercises from being enforced in the schools, and also prohibiting the use of books of a sectarian or political nature.

Mr. Moores was opposed to the bill for many reasons. He regarded it as drawn in a bungling manner and cumbersome in length and arrangement, while the general objects of the bill are, in his opinion, commendable. He felt it his duty to vote against it on the whole.

Mr. Fay said he desired the amendment made, because there are teachers who endeavor to inculcate their own peculiar tenets into their pupils. This he regarded wrong and desired to prohibit it. Another reason why he was opposed to the bill was that he preferred the school funds to be [illegible]. All things considered, he preferred the old system.

The bill, with several amendments, was referred to a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Fay, Crawford and Moores.

At 12 o'clock the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE—Afternoon Session.

SALEM, Tuesday, Oct. 25.

The House met at 1½ P. M.

STATE SCHOOL TAX.

Mr. Speaker stated the question to be upon Mr. Shuck's motion to amend S. B. — by striking out four mills and inserting two mills.

The motion failed—ayes 13, noes 16.

The Speaker—The Chair knows that there are plenty of members lounging around here, and if some member will move a call of the House we can soon get a quorum.

Mr. Hare—I move a call of the House.

The call was ordered, and Messrs. Clarke, Dorris, Davenport, Elkins, Earhart, Grant, Hutchinson, Harrison, Holman, Hunter, Olney, Savage and Thompson were reported absent.

Mr. Hare asked that the absentees be sent for.

Mr. Amis—I will state that my colleague, Mr. Dorris, was asleep here, and he need not be sent for. [Laughter.] Several of the absentees entered.

Mr. Whiteaker moved to dispense with the further call of the House.

The motion prevailed.

The bill was ordered to its third reading to-morrow.

$300,000 SUBSIDY BILL.

At 2 o'clock P. M. the House took up the special order—S. B. 77—an act to amend the charter of the city of Portland so as to enable the city to issue $300,000 in bonds to secure the terminus of the Wallamette Valley Railway within the limits of the city.

Mr. Lockhart, from the special committee, reported back the bill with the proposed amendments incorporated as instructed. The bill was read by the clerk.

Mr. Lockhart—This is the way the bill will read when the amendments proposed by the committee are adopted. Therefore I move that the amendments be adopted, so that the bill may read as the House has heard the clerk read it.

Mr. Amis—I arise for information. If I remember correctly, there was an article submitted with the original bill on yesterday, with instructions to the committee to report upon it. I would ask if the gentleman has made a report in accordance with the orders of the House.

Mr. Lockhart—I will state that the report is in accordance with the instructions of the House and [illegible]. All the amendments are copied correctly.

The Speaker stated the question upon the amendments.

Mr. Alexander called for the reading of the amendments and they were read.

Mr. Whiteaker—I think I shall have to vote upon the adoption of the amendments, and for the reason that I think the bill itself ought to pass. And I propose in a very brief way to give my reasons for opposing the bill. I think the Constitution forbids any such legislation. I find here, in Article 11, Section 9, on page 1[illegible] of the code, these words: "No county, city or town, or other municipal corporation, by vote of its citizens or otherwise, shall become a stockholder in any joint stock company, corporation or association whatever, or raise money for, or loan its credit to or in aid of any such company, corporation or association." Now, I must understand that this is raising money for a corporation, and as much as I regret voting against a measure that would otherwise please me and please me much, I cannot vote for it while it seems to be in direct violation of this provision. If, however, some gentleman can explain this provision away, I shall vote for it. I will vote for the entire thing. But until it is explained to my satisfaction, I shall certainly have to vote against the bill.

Mr. Olney—As I understand this bill it does not attempt what the Constitution forbids—to raise money for an incorporation, or to give its credit to any corporation. It provides that the city of Portland may, in its discretion, contract with individuals, or an individual—not a corporation—if they will procure a certain railroad to be built with its terminus in the city of Portland, and therefore it seems to me that it entirely steers clear of the constitutional objection. The Constitution forbids municipal corporations to raise money for or loan credit to a corporation, or to take stock in a corporation. It does not prohibit them from contracting with individuals for the construction of any work the city may see fit to undertake, or cause to be undertaken by others. This is simply a proposition to permit the city to contract with an individual, or individuals. It is true that it allows the city to loan its credit, but not in aid of a corporation, but to fulfill its own contract with an individual.

Mr. Dorris—I think this amendment should be adopted for this reason, it was only last week that we adopted an amendment to the charter of Portland. The amendment proposes to make this bill harmonize with the amendment then adopted. Now my colleague (Mr. Whiteaker) says he will vote against the bill from constitutional objections, and he cites us to Section 9 of Article 11. I am firmly of the opinion that the bill does not come under that provision at all. It does not propose to lend aid to any corporation, any county or city. It only proposes one single thing and that is this, that the city charter shall be amended. Now I ask if this is all, how can it be unconstitutional? If it is unconstitutional every act of this Legislature by which the charters of other towns have been amended are unconstitutional. Now, what will be the result of this amendment is not for this House to say. It has been said that the amendment proposes to allow Portland to lend its aid to a corporation in the sum of three hundred thousand dollars. That is not the case. You cannot find such a thing in the bill. All it proposes to do is to amend the charter of the city of Portland, and the whole matter will rest upon the City Council of Portland, and they are the ones to say whether Portland shall be taxed or not as proposed. This amendment, then, is strictly constitutional. Now I know that I have not got time enough to take up other parts of this subject matter, because I am only allowed five minutes, but I shall vote for these amendments, because I believe in [illegible] amending the charter, and not levying any tax upon those people. It says the City Council, if they can find any person who will do this, that or the other thing, may enter into a contract to pay out $300,000 and may levy a tax to carry out that contract. Now, suppose the city does not find a person, what effect will the law have? None at all. Now members may talk here for—

The Speaker's gavel fell.

Mr. Hayden—These amendments having been presented by me, I simply desire to call attention to that provision of the Constitution to which the senior gentleman from Lane (Mr. Whiteaker) referred. I understand him to say that if the Constitutional objections were removed, he would favor the bill. If gentlemen will keep from between me and the Speaker, I propose to talk, but I don't want men to be running between me and the Speaker.

The Speaker—Gentlemen will observe the rule.

Mr. Hayden—Now I [illegible] to say that this provision [illegible] has anything to do with it. The Article says: "No county, city or town, or other municipal corporation, by vote of its citizens or otherwise, shall become a stockholder in any joint stock company, corporation or association whatever, or raise money for, or loan its credit to or in aid of any such company, corporation or association." The bill does not propose to make any county, town or municipal corporation a stockholder. That is [illegible] the first objection. Again, it does not recognize any joint stock company. It does not recognize an association, but it does recognize a person or persons. Now the Constitution refers to a company. What sort of a company? [illegible] nothing to do with any company. This bill does not propose anything of the sort. It simply proposes by the amendment submitted by me yesterday, that if the city of Portland [illegible] it may make a contract with anybody it pleases to get the terminus of a certain railway located in the town. There is no constitutional objection, in my opinion, about it. There is no joint stock company in the bill, there is no corporation to it, there is no association in it that violates the Constitution or any of the laws of Oregon. It proposes to deal simply with a person or persons to do a certain amount of work—to perform a certain service. The city may contract for gas works, for water works, or under this bill the city may contract for securing the terminus of a railroad.

Mr. Amis called for the reading of the first section which permits the city to issue the bonds to any person who may secure the location to Portland of the terminus depot of the [illegible] road from Portland to Astoria, by the Wallamet Valley Railway [illegible] company.

The section was read.

Mr. Amis [illegible]

The Clerk read [illegible] amendment [illegible] section 4, [illegible] Constitution of this State [illegible]

Mr. Amis—I move the adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Alexander—I think the motion is entirely out of order.

The Speaker—If the gentleman will give the Chair time to look over the amendment he will rule upon it. The Chair rules the proposed amendment out of order.

Mr. Amis—I don't want it to go in that way. [Laughter.]

The Speaker—The Chair rules it out of order—any attempt to repeal the Constitution in that way cannot go upon the record.

Mr. Amis—I supposed the House would give it a fair show.

The Speaker (striking with the gavel)—Order.

Mr. Lockhart—This bill simply proposes to give the City Council power to contract with any person who will induce a railway company to secure the location of the western terminus of the Portland and [illegible] railway within the limits of the city of Portland. It proposes to allow the Council to issue $300,000 in bonds for such service. The contract must be made with a company or [illegible]. Now as to the policy and rightfulness of permitting a people to improve their own property by the building of railways, the construction of canals, etc., I suppose there is not a [illegible] in the minds of any one. The members of this body from Portland are the representatives of the property holders of that city, and I suppose they hold to the doctrine of [illegible]. They are unanimously in favor of this bill. The members of the City Council are also representatives of the property owners, and if the people of Portland do not wish to bear this tax they can remonstrate against it and I have no doubt their wishes will be duly considered. I am not one of those who would withhold from the people any of their just rights.

Mr. Hayden seconded the [illegible].

Mr. Porter—I have an amendment to offer to that bill.

The clerk read: "Add to section 7 and Section 8 [illegible]: Provided, That the County Courts of the counties of Washington, Yamhill, Polk, Benton and Lane, be and they are hereby authorized to issue upon the same terms and under like restrictions, similar bonds, to be applied in like manner as the bonds above mentioned; and further that said counties shall issue said bonds in proportion to the value of the assessable property of Portland, as compared with the assessable property of the said counties as assessed in the year 1870, and the said bonds of all be signed by the County Court, and shall be delivered in like manner as provided [illegible], provided further, that said bonds shall only be delivered upon the—

The Speaker—The clerk need not read any further. There is already an amendment [illegible]; an amendment to an amendment [illegible] out of order.

Mr. Amis—I think the gentleman had a perfect right to that—

The Speaker (striking with gavel)—The gentleman will take his seat.

Mr. Amis—I can appeal I suppose.

The Speaker—The gentleman can appeal, but he can't talk any more.

Mr. Amis—Well, I don't want to appeal. [Laughter.]

The Speaker—The Chair rules that the amendments now pending must be first acted upon. After that the amendment proposed can be entertained.

Mr. Fulton—This appears to be a matter of great importance, and it does look to me but little different on its face. It all appears to run together, and whenever we create one debt it gets larger and larger. It appears to me that we ought to reject it. It is true I can see nothing rightful in it, because it is taxing the men and children who have this debt to pay. If it was to tax the people that made the petition for it, why, for Heaven's sake, I would let them tax to the last dollar, but it is a tax upon the city of Portland. We have an exorbitant tax that we will feel the sting of for more than twenty years and I cannot be willing, for one, to create another bonded debt for every child that is in Portland without her consent. It was on this very ground that our main strength was placed every time that we appeared before the people last summer and protested against this gigantic national debt, this bonded debt of the nation, and why should we now turn around and [illegible] affix the right of this State to create another debt for another people to pay. I must say I oppose the whole thing on its face, and I say now that I will oppose every bit of it. [illegible] every man, woman and child I will never vote. Many of them are hungry, they want to [illegible], they want to get a rail[illegible] that they will get a little pay for the present, and I don't see why we shall all [illegible] to take the [illegible]. Time! [illegible] all over the land [illegible] thirty years ago—

The Speaker—The gentleman's time is up, and a little past.

Mr. Fulton—No, sir, [Laughter.] This indebtedness—

The Speaker (striking with the gavel)—The question is upon the adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Shuck—I propose to offer the gentleman's amendment there as a substitute.

The Speaker—It has been offered already and ruled out.

Mr. Shuck—I offer it as a substitute and I claim it under the rule.

Mr. Amis—I second the motion. [Laughter.]

The Speaker—The Chair holds that you cannot offer a substitute to an amendment [illegible] the ruling of the Chair. If members don't like it they can appeal. That's all. [Laughter.]

The amendments were adopted by the following vote:

Ayes—Messrs. Alexander, Apperson, Burnett, Caldwell, Clark, Carson, Calloway, Carlisle, Davis, Dorris, Dunbar, Davenport, Earhart, Helm, Harrison, Holman, Hare, Lockhart, McLain, McCoy, Mills, Olney, Ostrander, O'Regan, Paquet, Quimby, Starkweather, Shuck, Townsend, Wells, Whiteaker, Waldron, Whalley and Mr. Speaker—34.

Noes—Messrs. Amis, Comegys, DeShiel, Elkins, Fulton, Grant, Hutchinson, Munkers and Porter—9.

Mr. Shuck—I give notice that on to-morrow I will move to reconsider that amendment.

Mr. Porter offered his amendment, given above.

Mr. Whiteaker was called to the chair.

Mr. Caldwell—I move that it be laid on the table.

The motion failed.

Mr. Amis—I move the adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Dorris—I will ask that the chairman maintain order. I will endeavor to say a few words if a half dozen gentlemen will not disturb me at once.

The Speaker—Well talk them down.

Mr. Dorris regarded the amendment as in direct violation of section 9, article XI of the Constitution.

Mr. Amis moved to adopt the amendment for the purpose of testing the sincerity of gentlemen who claim to want a road on the west side of the Wallamet.

Mr. Helm—It seems to me, sir, that the amendment can scarcely be offered in good faith, and the author of it certainly overlooks the fact that it is a plain and palpable violation of the law. I think the State of Oregon, through its representatives, dare not take the responsibility of adopting such an amendment. If we were to compel these counties to issue those bonds there would be no end to arbitrary legislation. We must be confined to the limits of the Constitution.

Mr. Olney—I do not object to having these counties empowered to aid this railroad or any other railroad if they desire to do so. As yet they have manifested no such desire. Therefore this amendment is uncalled for. Besides it is unfriendly to the bill and calculated to work its defeat, and as it is an unfriendly movement, I am opposed to it. I wish to state that I am pretty thoroughly acquainted with the views of the people of Portland, having conversed with most of the leading men on this subject. The facts of the case are that a railroad is to be constructed from the city of Portland to another point. It is a question of location. A railroad is to be constructed, and this is not a question as to aiding the construction of the road. A number of surveys have been made, and it is found that a road can be constructed from the Tualatin Plains, down the Tualatin river, by way of Oswego, crossing the [illegible] and going to East Portland [illegible] at less cost [illegible] directly to Portland. It is therefore, to the direct interest of any company to [illegible] way of Oswego, using the present road [illegible] into the Tualatin valley. It is $300,000 to their interest because that much of the expenditure can be saved. But to this the people of Portland seriously object. They regard it as detrimental to their interests. They feel that they can afford to pay a handsome bonus to secure the terminus upon the west side. They are willing to pay that bonus. They are willing to pay the increased cost instead of [illegible] upon the company. It is for the benefit of Portland, for all of Portland, not only for the present, but for all time to come, that this road should be brought in as proposed by the bill. They are willing to pay the increased cost. Why not permit them to do so? The bill does not compel them to do it. It merely permits them to do it. They may make the contract for less than $300,000. They may secure it at $1[illegible]. It is believed, however, that it will require $300,000, because that is the difference in the cost. That is the reason why the city asks to be allowed to secure the direct entrance of this road and its terminal depot. Shall they not have this privilege?

Mr. Porter—I was just going to speak a little about the [illegible] of the gentlemen from Lane. Mr. Dorris. He gets up in the first place and [illegible] charter of Portland, [illegible] members of this House [illegible] constitutional by whipping the devil around the stump, and [illegible] amendment [illegible] to receive what they say as to the law. I don't believe any such thing.

Mr. Hayden [illegible]

Mr. [illegible]

[illegible] Portland [illegible]

The amendment was rejected.

Mr. Lockhart—I move that the bill be read the third time now.

The Speaker—That motion will have to be put in a different way.

Mr. Lockhart—This bill passed its second reading yesterday.

The Speaker—It is not yet ordered to a third reading.

Mr. Lockhart—Then I move that the rules be suspended and the bill read now the third time.

The motion prevailed: Ayes, 37; noes, 6—Messrs. Amis, Comegys, DeShiel, Fulton, Porter and Shuck.

The clerk read the bill, and the question upon its passage was stated.

Mr. Dorris said there were friends for whom he entertained the highest respect asking him to vote for, and many for whom he had an equally high regard, had asked him to vote against the bill. All the statements in opposition to the bill had been to the effect that the bill levied a tax [illegible] for which Portland would not be [illegible]. While in Portland recently, he had examined the [illegible] and found that [illegible] the property of Portland was only two and a half millions of dollars. In [illegible] it was three and a half millions of dollars, and to-day the real estate of Portland is assessed at [illegible] millions of dollars. All this increase was due to railroad enterprise. He felt sure, that should the bill pass the property of Portland would soon be worth double what it is now. He had noticed that of all who had objected to the bill, none had said he was unwilling to be taxed to secure the object of the bill. He regarded the bill as in the nature of an enabling act—to enable the city of Portland to do what it wished and secure an important benefit.

Mr. Fulton objected to imposing a tax upon anybody against his will. As to the argument that the bill does not levy the tax, he said it was like throwing a man [illegible] and then because [illegible] did not [illegible] him, claiming that no wrong had been done. [Laughter.]

Mr. Grant—I am a little [illegible] sick and I don't expect to talk very long, but I want to set myself aright before the people of my county. An attempt has been made to [illegible] out that I was held to my bed by the doctor to keep me from voting here, I have determined to come. I have been bull-whacked and cat-hauled around by both parties, and dragged from pillar to post so much that I am hardly able to walk. I want it understood that I am not voting to please anybody. I have [illegible] it upon my own views and between men and God. I shall vote against it as an unjust measure imposed upon the people of Portland. Now, sir, if they levy this tax upon Portland, they can levy it upon the people of Polk county. We want a road all over there, but we don't want to pay Ben Holladay for building any. If [illegible] roads, and [illegible] it there without a contribution from our county, why, I say, let the railroad go to thunder. [Laughter.]

Mr. Boyd differed from his colleague (Mr. Grant) as to the justice of the measure. He believed the bill right in every respect, and intended to vote for it. He did not believe in dragging in Mr. Holladay's name to defeat any measure. The bill says nothing about Mr. Holladay.

Mr. Amis said it was the general belief among Democrats that Mr. Holladay had manipulated the elections in Portland the last two or three years, and had carried everything his own way. He did not intend to be governed by the petitioners in favor of the bill, no matter how numerous they might be, because he believed them in the interest of Mr. Holladay. He would prefer to be governed in his action by the opinion of Judge Stout as to the will of the people of Portland. He said that if the bill should pass it would be heralded abroad that the Democratic party had donned Ben Holladay's collar. He called upon Mr. Fulton to make a statement of an attempt to bribe him.

Mr. Fulton—If the House demands it, I will feel required to do it.

Mr. Hayden—I do not think the House cares anything about it. [Laughter.]

Mr. Apperson said he had not looked at the matter as one in which Mr. Holladay was interested, but as one for the benefit of Portland, and in that way he would vote for the bill.

Mr. Olney said he knew there were men in Portland who wish the bill to pass, some of whom are friends and some are not personal or political friends of Mr. Holladay. It is a matter of indifference to Mr. Holladay, but of vital importance to Portland. He could see no politics in it.

Mr. Carlisle—I am not in the habit of making long speeches. The gentleman from Polk talks about being bull-whacked. I have not been button-holed, because I shun all such men. I am a West side man, and I vote for West side measures, and when the roll is called, gentlemen will know how I vote. I move the previous question.

Mr. Lockhart—I arise to a question of privilege. I understood the gentleman from Lane (Mr. Amis) to say that money had been offered to induce the report of the committee upon this bill.

Mr. Amis—I will say that I did not have reference to it. I had the gentleman from Wasco in my mind when I said that. I hope he will be permitted to make the statement publicly that he made to me.

The previous question was ordered—28 ayes to 14 noes—and the bill was passed.

Ayes—Messrs. Apperson, Burnett, Caldwell, Clark, Carson, Calloway, Carlisle, Dorris, Dunbar, Davenport, Earhart, Harrison, Holman, Hare, Lockhart, McCoy, Mills, Olney, Ostrander, O'Regan, Paquet, Quimby, Starkweather, Townsend, Wells, Whalley, Waldron and the Speaker—28.

Noes—Messrs. Alexander, Amis, Comegys, Drain, De Shiel, Elkins, Fulton, Grant, Hutchinson, Helm, McLain, Munkers, Porter, Shuck and Whiteaker—15.

Mr. Helm—I desire to change my vote to aye. I do so in order to give notice of a motion to reconsider this vote.

Mr. Hare—I move to reconsider now.

Mr. Dorris—I move to indefinitely postpone the motion.

The motion prevailed by the same vote as the preceding, except that Mr. Shuck voted "aye."

Mr. Shuck—I give notice that on to-morrow I will move to reconsider the vote to indefinitely postpone. [Laughter.]

PENITENTIARY TO BE BUILT.

S. B. — an Act to appropriate $[illegible] to aid the construction of a Penitentiary, was called up by Mr. Holman, and after some discussion it was passed unanimously.

Several other bills were read and ordered to a third reading.

At 5:30 P. M. the House adjourned.

The Shivering Season
The loss to the laboring classes of the United States caused by fever and ague, has been estimated at upwards of two million dollars per annum. Whole settlements are sometimes prostrated by the disease, and it is regarded in some localities, as one of those visitations of Providence which cannot be avoided. This is a mistake. As certainly as any of the evils which are [illegible] may be forestalled by precaution—so certainly may an attack of intermittent [illegible] be prevented by invigorating the system with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in advance of the season of which the malady prevails. Prevention, [illegible], is the wisest policy, but it is [illegible] to know it at a time one has not been thus taken by the forelock, and the paroxysms have actually commenced, a complete cure may, in all cases, be rapidly effected by the use of this powerful vegetable tonic. The reputation of the Bitters as a specific for dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation and nervous debility, has in some measure thrown into the shade its merits as a preventive and cure of other ailments; but all who have ever taken it, either as a protection against or a remedy for malarious fevers, will admit that it surpasses in efficacy all the so-called specifics (including quinine) usually prescribed for these maladies, while it is at the same time entirely harmless and thoroughly palatable.

The Density of Population in New England

The Boston Journal says

In 1860 the census showed the density of the population of the several New England States to be as follows

States	Sq miles	Persons to each sq mile
Maine	30 000	20 9
New Hampshire	9 280	35 1
Vermont	9 046	34 8
Massachusetts	7 800	[illegible] 8
Rhode Island	1 040	166 9
Connecticut	4 674	98 4

No other State in the Union came quite up to Connecticut, New York showing 81 3 persons to the square mile, New Jersey 80 7 By the present census the density of population will be shown to have slightly increased in Maine and Vermont and to have slightly fallen off in New Hampshire In Massachusetts the figures are 185 6 and in Rhode Island exactly 206 The latter is therefore the most densely populated State of the Union If the whole of New England were as closely populated as Massachusetts, we should have over eleven and a half millions of inhabitants If the ratio in Rhode Island generally prevailed the population of New England would reach to about the figure of 12 740,000 And yet it would seem that our smallest State has no exceptional capacity to sustain population Its soil, of course, does not feed the numbers upon it—that being a matter of no consequence in these days of general intercommunication If the ratio of Rhode Island were applied to the whole area of the United States after knocking off more than half a million of square miles for waste lands water etc leaving about three miles of square miles for residence we should have the respectable national population of 618 000 000 or about one-half of the present estimated population of the globe The thanks of the country are due to Little Rhody for the suggestion

Somebody in Madison Ga has been interviewing Robert Toombs and sending the result to the Rochester [illegible]

"Toombs said Lincoln was a good but not a great man Attorney General Akerman was well enough—a hard working good sound lawyer that Grant and Hoffman will be the next candidates for President, that the national debt will never be paid, but will be reduced until it reaches a par value in gold that there will be no other conflict between North and South in our generation, for in a few years the 'Yanks' will own nearly all the Southern lands, and what they don't get the niggers will that the Southerners will go to the Southwest and use up more lands for the grandchildren of Northern men to redeem When asked

"But what will you do for labor, General to wear out those rich fields with?

He said "China and Japan will furnish it

"But the Democratic party of the north are opposed to introducing this kind of labor, and will make it a party issue perhaps

They had better let that quest on alone, said he The law of supply and demand will govern it in spite of parties and the fewer issues a party has to pack the easier can it march to victory

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary.

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhoea Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness, Impotency etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs confused vision blunted intellect loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society loss of memory, hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the face furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption night sweats monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them no delay to obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge

CURED AT HOME

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case [illegible] Medicines [illegible] from observation [illegible] on receipt of Ten Dollars sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders! who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades Some are tinsmiths shoemakers newspaper carriers intelligence office keepers etc Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will find [illegible] but you will find their former occupation in it Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863 The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them unless you know who and what they are Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus [illegible] certificates pretended patient's letters etc Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure

THE RIVERSIDE

HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

OF

EAST PORTLAND OREGON,

IS NOW PREPARED TO RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS [illegible] her Stock

Applications for ONE HUNDRED SHARES were made before the books were opened, and a large number of Shares have been taken

The following extracts from the Oregonian and Bulletin will convey a good idea of the plan and working of the Association the location of the land, etc., etc.

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

This association of whose organization we gave an account a few days since, is now ready to [illegible] pose of shares As it is with one exception [illegible] Portland Homestead Association,) the pioneer organization of that kind in this city, it may be well enough to state what are its purposes and the manner in which it is proposed to conduct its operations The purposes of these Homestead Associations are not at all speculative in the ordinary sense of the word. They are [illegible] for the profits of their investment [illegible] natural advance in the value of their [illegible] consequent upon the co-operation of many [illegible] shareholders—and the advance of the surrounding lands by reason of the growth of population and demand for room outside of but still near, the city The Riverside Homestead Association has a fraction over [illegible] twenty acres of land situated just south of Brooklyn on the east side of the river, its northeast boundary line being [illegible] ferry landing at East Portland [illegible] in one strip along the Willamette river [illegible] in length, and another strip along the [illegible] California railroad, half a mile in length [illegible] strips being connected near [illegible] rows of blocks (with a street [illegible] whole forming a figure not [illegible] It is divided into 74 blocks, 200 feet [illegible] streets running at right angles and [illegible] al lots, along the river front. The shares number 600, worth $60 per share. It will be seen that a share thus represents nearly a lot with an undivided interest in the 80 fractional lots. The fractional shares are to be sold off [illegible] for the benefit of the Association [illegible] coming in for the proceeds [illegible] number of shares held. When all [illegible] taken and the Association [illegible] mine to do it the choice of lots and blocks will be put up at auction to the highest bidder the proceeds of such sales, after deducting the original price of shares or lots, to be divided equally among the whole number of shares Thus if a person wants a particular lot or block and is willing to pay $100 or $200 [illegible] or less as the case may be) he pays it and takes the lot or block as his individual [illegible] premium being divided among the whole body of shareholders It will be seen [illegible] everything is co-operative, and all [illegible] tual No man can make a dollar out of it without also making a dollar for every other shareholder There is no chance to lose, unless the property by some chance, should [illegible] far below the first actual cost. Whether this is liable to happen in the case of this particular tract of land must be judged by each for [illegible] but considering the steady and rapid advance on real estate in this city and neighborhood and at East Portland and vicinity, in the last year or two, it [illegible] hardly [illegible] values to go back

In the Riverside Association all proper precautions seem to have been taken to guard against monopolies of shares. No person is [illegible] buy more than the number of shares [illegible] three blocks, or twenty-four lots, and thus determining the operations of the [illegible] restricted in the same manner. The holder of shares may pay down $60 per share, and exempt them from all [illegible] or pay $15 quarterly with an [illegible] share payable with the first [illegible] liable in this latter case to another (and only other) assessment of $5 per share. Upon the payment of the shares in full, with the [illegible] as above, the holder is entitled to his [illegible] and his proportion of all the profits accruing from all sources. No officer of the Association gets any pay for services except the [illegible] gets $25 per month, so it will be seen that the expenses must be light.

That part of the tract lying along the river is a high plateau, nearly level, about [illegible] feet above the water There is no part of the front row of blocks but commands a [illegible] view of Portland and the river for miles up and down stream That part of the tract lying along the railroad is every foot of it, of the richest loam soil and adapted to gardening purposes. A beautiful little stream of pure water runs through almost the entire length of this wing of the land affording the means of irrigation, and power sufficient to supply pure water to every part of the whole tract. There is not a single [illegible] lot in the entire tract Under all these advantages it would seem impossible that there should be any chance of loss to shareholders. Within a year each shareholder if he choose, will get a perfect title to as many lots as his shares may represent or he may continue his [illegible] provided with the Association while the organization may exist.—Oregonian.

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

We have been led to make these remarks from the fact that the subject of making [illegible] the outskirts of this city and East Portland, is being [illegible] discussed here among all classes [illegible]

Riverside [illegible] just south of East Portland [illegible] been established The site selected [illegible] being a little over a mile south of the ferry landing. It [illegible] shaped like the letter H one side of which, a half mile in length borders on the river [illegible] portion of the homestead [illegible] which is elevated [illegible] a trifle above the other prong of the H, [illegible] fifty feet above the river can be had an extensive view of Portland East Portland, the shipping and the Willamette river for several miles. The land is [illegible] [illegible] covered with light fir timber A tract of land just wide enough for two rows of blocks with an avenue between them, connects the west prong of the H which has already been described, with the east [illegible] last tract of land is in a beautiful little valley which is [illegible] under a high state of cultivation [illegible] runs a trout brook, the water of which is clear as crystal With a hydraulic ram the Association propose to have water conveyed through every portion of the homestead.—Daily Bulletin.
